Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 10 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry, sunny in east. Blustery showers in west. Cold.

Today:
Cold but mostly dry and bright in east with sunny spells. Cloudier across north and west Scotland with showers, these heavy at first, dying out this afternoon. Fresh westerly winds, strong on the west coast this morning.

Tonight:
Most places will be dry with clear periods. Also cold with a frost and light winds. Later tonight, thickening cloud, rain and freshening winds reaching West Coast with temperatures recovering.

Saturday:
Dry, bright start in east then wet, windy weather sweeping eastwards to all parts during morning. Rain heavier in west. Drier conditions following to many places during afternoon, winds easing.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Dry, bright Sunday morning, then rain, strong winds later. Risk of severe gales over northern Scotland Sunday night. Drier, brighter Monday then rain and strong southwest winds Tuesday. Turning milder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.